

Yann Lepage, VP Sales EMEA, Mobility & Workflow Solutions, Honeywell Sensing and Productivity Solutions

Yann Lepage is currently Vice President EMEA of the Honeywell Workflow Solutions (WFS) business across the entire WFS solutions portfolio. Yann leads the EMEA business's sales activities. In this role, he is responsible for proposing business processes improvement solutions to an extensive set of customers around the region. Yann is based at the Honeywell EMEA - Rolle office in Switzerland.

Prior to this role, Yann held the position of Global Sales Leader of the Honeywell Aerospace Trading (HAT) business across the entire aerospace product portfolio.

Yann is a customer focus executive of Honeywell and his expertise spans internationally. In addition, he has been able to use his expertise to leverage the offering made by Honeywell in support of customer's programs and expectations enabling WFS to become one of the key players in the voice directed workers' business.

Prior to joining Honeywell Yann previously spent eleven years working within IT and telecoms companies, including IBM, Orange Business and Dell. He held a variety of roles with increasing responsibility in sales; including senior account management and global account management.

Yann holds a Masters degree from the business school of management in Lille, France, and graduated from the IBM Sales University.
